

Andrew Ruf is the Managing Partner at Paradigm Talent Agency and President of the Talent Department. This includes Feature Film financing, packaging and distribution sales, brand and franchise management, corporate alliances, corporate strategy, and enterprise social responsibility. He has been featured and headlined multiple times in Variety and Hollywood Reporter, in recognition to his outstanding work and major client list. Andrew graduated from Cornell University then completed his JD and received a Law Degree from the University of Miami Law School.